Problems With Existing Bots

Management

The project owners do not have an opportunity to manage the bot, all actions are set initially. When the market changes, they have to get in touch with the support team

Trading inside the spread

The project owners do not have an opportunity to manage the bot, all actions are set initially. When the market changes, they have to get in touch with the support team

Interaction With Users

In case of strong market fluctuations, bots with simple functionality stop working. The project owners don't even know about it.

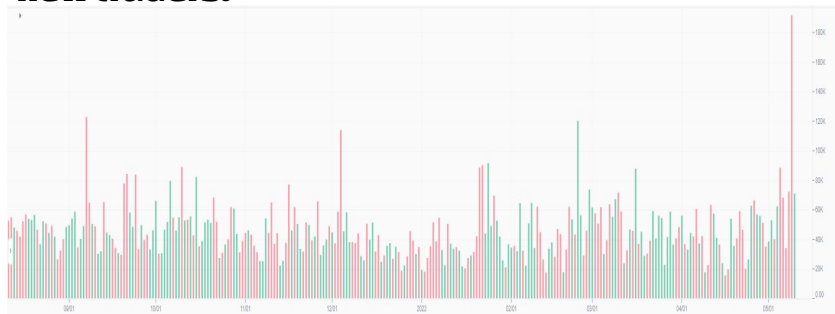

Market direction

In order to show a correct and flat candlestick chart, you must manually enter the exchange rate.

Startup Package

VOLUME

Thanks to our algorithms, you will be able to independently control the directions of the market. They help the bot make natural transactions, so that the token chart attracts the attention of the community, as well as new traders.

CHART

We help make organic volume. That's what attracts the attention of traders and investors. The lack of trading volume means a low level of interest from the traders and other community members.

TRADE TO

AN INNOVATIVE SOLUTION FROM OUR TEAM

Trade to function will allow you to choose the market direction yourself. You will be able to set trends when the market should go down and when it should go up.

SHOWING STABLE GROWTH IS SIMPLE

The schedule system will help you set market movements
